PROJECTS

Flight Ticket Price Prediction – [OLS/DT/KNN/RF/GB/ADA]

- Flight tickets related to different parameters that makes certain changes in rising and falling of prices. Flight prices have uncertainty with airline of the flight, duration of travel, the day of travel and many others. From this project we analyse this parameter and their effect on the ticket price.
- Machine learning can be used to detect the pattern in the historical data and can be useful to create a prediction. Utilizing the Data analysing and Machine Learning to predict flight prices.

Bank Customer Classification – [LR/NB/KNN/SVM/ADA]

- Portugal Bank Marketing dataset, Containing different features. All the features are categories in the 'Bank client data', 'Related with the last contact of the current campaign', 'Other attributes', 'Social and economic context attributes' sections.
- Depend upon all this features classifying the customer to the class of if they are subscribed to term deposit "yes" or "No".

Market Price Trend Prediction – [ARIMA/MA/ES]

- A series of time dependent data used to time series forecasting. Using different machine learning techniques for time series forecasting including ARIMA models, Exponential smoothing, moving averages.
- Market of Mumbai has different products and the prices changes depending upon season and time. A time series model is best to decompose all the elements.

Image Classification – [CNN/SGD]

- Image classification is a task of Deep neural network modelling is required. Using CNN and its different filter layers an image is classified into different categories.
- Cifer10 dataset contains different category of images like horse, airplane, car truck, boat, duck and other's deep neural network model is able to classify them.

Climate change Analysis using DL –[CNN-RNN-LSTM-GRU]

- The Climate change is real. A simple temperature variation over year can be evidence for that. Historical climate data in a time series can be used to analysis it.
- Using CNN – LSTM – GRU networks for time series analysis and forecasting data.

Gas Turbine Analysis-Multioutput Regression – [Multi LR/DT]

- Gas turbines exhaust different gases mixture. The emission can give the idea if the turbine is working properly or the performance of the turbine can be estimated by exhaust gases.
- A regression can be used to predict this emission with different concentration. But what if it is important to predict emission of two variables. This project is to understand how a multioutput regression can be performed and its performance.
